

A One-Day Short Course – Tuesday 3rd June 2014

China's Seaborne Trade and Maritime Defense in the Current Era

This short course is organised with the support of the China Maritime Centre and will be led by the Centre's Director Dr Minghua Zhao, international shipping analyst Richard Scott and naval defense specialist David Wilkinson. The course will investigate China's rapid growth in seaborne trade of all types and the impact upon global maritime business; it will also examine the recent history of the Chinese People's Liberation Army Navy (the PLAN) in the light of American and Chinese concerns.

What will you study?

The key topics covered will be:

- China's Cargo Trade: attaining global giant status
- China's Oil and Gas Trade
- The People's Liberation Army [Navy] (PLAN): The rise of capability and ambition

China Maritime Centre
中国海事研究中心

Key Facts

Location and Duration of the Course

This course will take place from 9.30am – 4.30pm on Tuesday 3rd June 2014 at University of Greenwich, Queen Anne Court, Old Royal Naval College, Greenwich, London, SE10 9LS.

How to Apply

The cost of the course is £90 per person and will include course materials, lunch, refreshments and a certificate of attendance.

All places must be booked in advance by Sunday 25th May 2014. Please use our booking website <http://tinyurl.com/qebczo3>

